

GMIT GREEN CAMPUS DAY 2019

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 3RD

What is it about?

The annual GMIT Green Campus Day aims to raise awareness of sustainability-related issues across a range of topics from: energy and water conservation; waste prevention and reduction; sustainable transport; biodiversity; sustainable consumption and community engagement. Everybody is welcome to attend. We would love to see more students and staff involved in the Green Campus this year.

Where is it on?

The GMIT Green Campus Day will be held in Union Square between 10.00 and 14.00 on October 3rd with a special workshop on 'Reimagining GMIT as a Sustainable Community of Practice' running between 14.00 and 16.00. This will be facilitated by the Imagine2050 team/Cleaner Production Promotion Unit from UCC and the Holistic Urbanites Galway group.

Who will be there?

Exhibitors include Galway City and County Councils; Barna Recycling; Galway Environmental Network; GMIT Student Environmental Society; Irish Water; E-Car demos; GMIT (SEC) ProAir. Sustainable Energy Community Group, Conservation Volunteers Galway, Refill Ireland.

How can I take part?

Participate in the Voice Recycling workshops. Take the GMIT Green Campus Tour. Visit the exhibition stands.

Are there any pop-ups?

Yes, the Filling Station will be there with a pop-up shop so bring along your refillable containers!

Can I attend the workshop?

Yes, we are encouraging students, staff and the general public to attend the 'Reimagining the GMIT as a Sustainable Community of Practice', which will take place in 1036 between 14.00 and 16.00. Please see link for more details below.
